

Animal Science/Dairy Science 434

Reproductive Physiology

Introduction - Fall 2020

1

Dr. John J Parrish

2

Dr. John J Parrish

3

4

5

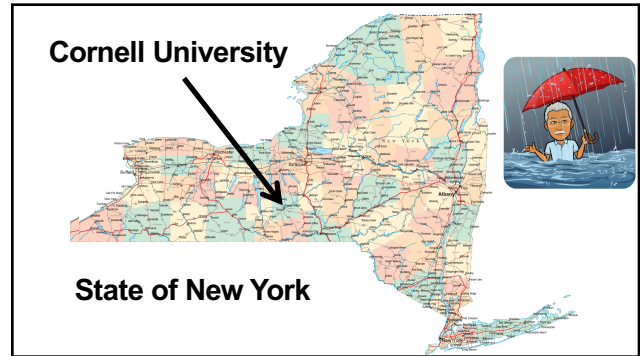

Bachelor of Science
• Animal Science, 1977

6

7

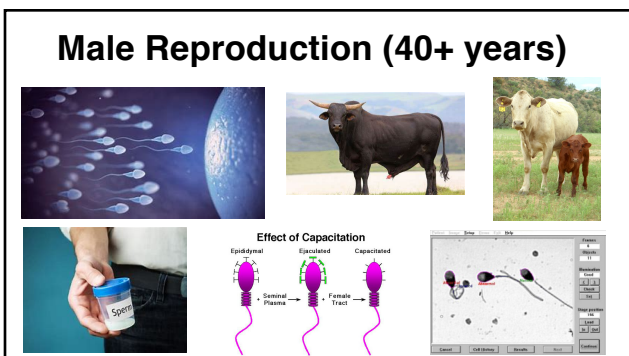

8

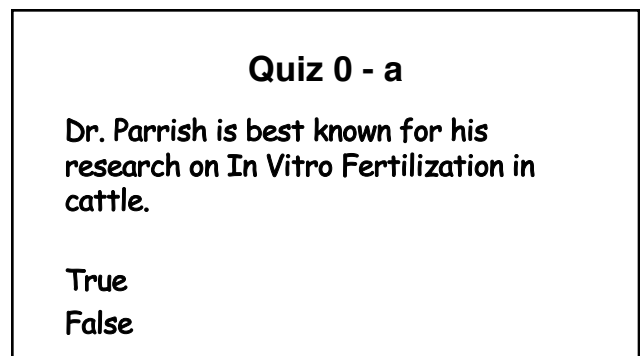

9

10

11

12

Quiz 0 - a

Dr. Parrish is best known for his research on In Vitro Fertilization in cattle.

True ✓
False

13

Special 2020 Information

- Lectures - Podcast only
 - » Recorded in 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020.
- Dr. Parrish is available in person during lab, virtual office hours or via email.
 - » Currently Thursday, 12 - 2, online
- Information for course activities are via Canvas and email (UW-Madison account).

14

Instructors

- John J. Parrish (Professor)
 - » Responsible for entire course and online lab section
- Ahmed Said Aly (Lab TA, Course coordinator)

Contact information in Canvas

15

Laboratories

- Labs (sections 301, 302 and 303)
 - » Live in person and planned for the full 2 hours
- Lab (section 304)
 - » Online and asynchronous, but submission dates for materials the same as other lab sections.
- Lab involves work with tissue and animals.
 - » Fall 2020 - Horses and swine

16

Text (Required)

- Pathways to Pregnancy and Parturition - Third Edition
 - » P.L. Senger
- UW Bookstore, Amazon
- E-book ($100) from publisher
- Library (not on reserve)
- Read assigned chapters before viewing lecture material!!!!

Specific edition guaranteed OK for exams!

17

Canvas

- Course Management Software for UW
- All material and submissions can be accessed via canvas

18

Effort and Difficulty

- 3 Credit hours are met by 135 hours of interaction with course material over the semester
 - » Average is 9 hours/week.
- Intermediate course

19

Grading

See Syllabus!

20

Overall Philosophy

- Many changes will happen in 2020 and we will address these in lab.
- We want you to learn!!!
- The course is intended to challenge you.

21

Overall Philosophy (cont.)

- Get your money's worth; extrapolate and integrate. This is how you succeed!
- Memorization does not lead to success in life!
- Must engage with course material every day for success.

22

Overall Philosophy (cont.)

- What soft skills did you gain in this course?
 - » These are what employers are looking for!!!!

23

24